

Submitted by: Faina Bukher, Faina.Bukher@unh.edu

Company/Organization: UNH Center for Social Innovation and Enterprise

Number of Employees: 2

For profit / Nonprofit: Nonprofit

Category: Workplace

Challenge or Opportunity:

College students want to be part of creating social and environmental change, but aren't sure how to do that, or that they can do it while earning a living.

Approach or Solution:

We connect students to nonprofits, for profit social mission businesses and gov't agencies that seek social and environmental impact through numerous experiential opportunities.

Impact:

Through internships, trainings, networking and the Social Venture Innovation challenge (and more) we expose students to local & global social enterprises and organizations. Through this, many are able to meet role models who are doing well & doing good & see it as a path for themselves. Many students go on to find important and meaningful work.